Man-Made Tragedies are a rock band blending punk energy with raw emotion and unforgettable live performances. Since 2018 MMT has been a well established power trio playing original music. Ezra Holloway, the omnipresent frontman, whose bass locks in with Kiegan Eastman's drums and Jake Tretler's blistering guitar, creates a show that keeps the audience engaged and wanting more. Performing in New England and New York with a growing discography and unrivaled ambition.

"The evening's most magnetic performer, bassist/vocalist Ezra Holloway, led Man Made Tragedies, the most seasoned of the five openings acts. Tall and lanky, sporting a bowl cut and a blue sweatshirt zipped right up to his throat, Holloway wore a wily grin and led his trio through a thundering set of original punk that rattled the church floor.

"C'mon!" Holloway screamed whenever the crowd's engagement lagged even a second. He finished the set by slamming his mic stand repeatedly against the stage."-
